DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in response to Application No. 10/665,699 filed on 9/19/2003. The amendment presented on 9/21/2009, which cancels claims 1-36, and adds claims 37-72, is hereby acknowledged. Claims 37-72 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 37-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claim 37 is drawn toward a method comprising storing collaborative information, common message data models, and common primitive message exchange sequences, initiating the first common primitive message exchange sequence, and receiving a second annotated message. It is merely software per se. As such, software per se does not establish a statutory category of invention.

Claims 38-48, which are dependent on claim 37, are rejected for similar reasons as stated above.

Claim 49 is drawn toward a computer program product comprising a computer readable storage medium including a computer readable program. The computer readable storage medium could be one of the non-statutory categories, as such, fails to establish a statutory category of invention. The examiner suggests change the computer readable storage medium to a non-transitory computer readable storage medium in the claims and corresponding specification.

Claims 50-60, which are dependent on claim 49, are rejected for similar reasons as stated above.

Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 37-72 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claim 37, 49 and 61 are drawn toward a method, a computer program product, and a system respectively comprising storing collaborative information, common message data models, and common primitive message exchange sequences, initiating the first common primitive message exchange sequence, and receiving a second annotated message. This claimed subject matter was not described in the original specification.

Claims 38-48, 50-60, and 62-72, which are dependent on claims 37, 49, and 61 respectively, are rejected for similar reasons as stated above.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 37-72 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 101 and 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
